

The Day Of Eternal Things

Ronnie Wolfe – Written 5-5-2018 – Funeral of Beth Blackburn

Day by day we live our lives
Constrained by limits true.
But one day, days will be eternal;
We'll live beyond the blue.

Present days fast pass away,
And we get older soon,
But long is life beyond this world
And far beyond the moon.

How brief the days come morn by morn,
And evenings quickly come.
One day without end we'll live
In the brightness of God's Son.

Old earth passed and new world comes,
Our voice and glad heart sings;
For it is now a day gone by
To a day of eternal things.
