

A Rainbow

A rainbow arched across the sky
Gives in a promise the reason why
My heart expects this wonder see
And guides this promise near to me.

God careth much to care for me,
Its grand reflection on the sea,
That in its brilliant color show
The truth of how he loves me so.

And how with His eternal hand
He makes my mind to understand
How great his essence to appear
When His dear Spirit lingers near.

When in my sight a rainbow see
I'm wont to bend upon my knee
And give my God eternal praise
And His great banner justly raise.
